State Convention.

THE WHIGS of the several Towns and Plantations in the State, are requested to send Delegates to a Convention, to be holden at AUGUSTA, on WEDNESDAY the TWENTY FIRST day of July next, to nominate a candidate to be supported by the Whig party for Governor, for the ensuing political year, and to act upon any other business that may come before the Convention.

Every Town and organized Plantation is requested to send one delegate—towns having one thousand inhabitants, by the census of 1840, are requested to send two delegates—towns having two thousand inhabitants are requested to send three, and for each additional thousand inhabitants to send an additional delegate.

Per order of Whig Legislative Committee.

Augusta, June 18, 1847.

☞ The Kennebec Journal states, on behalf of the Whig members of the Legislature, that at the forthcoming Whig Convention, the subject of a Presidential nomination will be considered, and the selection of two Delegates to the National Whig Convention.

☞ The Augusta Age, in speaking of the great convention to be held at Chicago to day, to devise measures for improving the Western Harbors and Rivers, darkly hints that in order to avoid the 'democratic' objections to the government engaging in so important and necessary a work, the name may be altered by rubbing out the adjective 'internal,' and substituting the word 'National,' because it is decidedly against Democracy to do anything for internal improvement, but the same act may be done with perfect propriety under the head of 'National improvement.' The Age makes its skilfulness in expediency answer for its lack of common honesty in political principle.

If Democracy is that simple yet efficient system which is pretended, let it have its perfect work, and then all can see the result, but it has none of the characteristics of a system. It is one thing to day, and another to morrow—affirming here, what it stoutly denies there, and to cover up all this inconsistency and vacillation, it claims to be 'progressive,' and thus is never expected to be found twice in the same place.

We think the Chicago Convention will teach the Polks and the democracies that these great interests of Rivers and Harbors are worthy, and must receive the attention of government, in spite of the truthful name "internal improvement."

☞ The Boston Daily Advertiser is decidedly the best business and commercial paper in New England. It has the largest and most correct maratime list of any paper published in Boston. We make frequent extracts of shipping intelligence from its columns, and are also often indebted to it for other valuable information.—The Advertiser is generally ahead of its competitors in getting news from remote points, where marine disasters occur, and it has a summary way of disposing of doubtful reports, which renders its authority highly creditable.

The Advertiser of the 28th says:—

"The Bangor Courier reports the loss of a vessel 14th inst on White Head, having gone on under full sail while beating. Name or fate of crew unknown. It was probably a small affair, or something more would have transpired before now."

It has turned out, however, that this was rather a serious affair. See the following, from a later Boston paper:—

"... (of Weymouth) Ferryplace, 17 hours from ... struck on Whitehead, 7 ... morn of 14th inst, in a heavy ... she struck went to pieces—... with difficulty, having lost all ... owned one-half of the vessel ..."

I... is to be no celebration in this city ... sent year, of the Anniversary of our National Independence, except perhaps, a floral procession of the children, and a concert by Mr Hopkins Juvenile Singing School.—We understand that it is expected that the procession will be formed at eight o'clock in the morning and after marching a short distance to the place provided, will sing a few songs, and after partaking of some confectionary or other refreshment, will be dismissed by ten o'clock in the forenoon. It is, as yet, uncertain how far these arrangements can be carried out for want of funds, but we understand that an effort will be made to day, to collect by voluntary subscription, the necessary amount, and as little, com... all will ..., will be required, it is hoped ... be ready to give their proportion when called upon.

The Adams House--Boston.

We would refer our readers to the notice of the proprietors of the Adams House, Boston.—It is an elegant house, convenient for all doing business in Boston, luxurious in its arrangements, and where the most assiduous and agreeable attentions are paid to the wants and wishes of all who make this house their temporary home. The Messrs Adams have a love of their business, and for which they seem to have been specially designed, since every thing is most common and natural when exactly right, and their spirit seems to pervade every department of the establishment and the services of all attendants.

☞ Our friend Dr Paul Ruggles, of Carmel, who has engaged with much vigor in farming, sheared from his flock of six sheep the present season, forty two pounds of wool, after it was cleaned and dried. Two of these sheep were but one year old, and the others only three years old. They are of the South Down and Dishley breed, and at this rate the Dr must find them much more profitable than any of his neighbors do in keeping the 'old fashioned sort.' We hope the Dr will push forward improvements, and become, by and by a great farming example.

☞ The first moon-light excursion for the season came off on Monday evening, when the steamer T F Secor took down river a party of our citizens who enjoyed the occasion much to their satisfaction. A shower on that day, and many scattering clouds in the evening, abated, somewhat, the beauty of the scene, as well as the number of the company. The Brass Band discourses fine music, and the young people enjoyed a merry dance, while others entertained themselves with a song singing concert.

Capt Sandford is a great favorite with our folks, and understands the secret of entertaining them.

☞ The steamer Tarratine will make an excursion to Castine on Monday next, by way of celebrating the National Anniversary. It will be a capital excursion and the hotels at Castine must hang on their biggest chowder kettles.

☞ The President while in New York while his words were fresh in all memories, that the pleasure of his visit was increased by being received independent of party, accepted an invitation of the Young Men's Democratic Committee to visit Tammany Hall, their Head Quarters. He was received with the usual demonstrations and three cheers were proposed by 'Capt.' Rynders of such as democrats only can give. This visit of the President to the Loco Head Quarters was in bad taste and in violation of his own verity.

☞ The rumor from Mexico is that the government of that country is also beginning to desire peace. If this be true, there can be no other obstacle in the way of peace, but the inability of the Mexican Government to make and maintain a peace. Against this, perhaps, our Government may provide by leaving our army in the country to support the Mexican Government until peace is established. We shall watch with great interest every arrival from Mexico now, with hope of seeing something to confirm the anticipations of a speedy termination of this destructive, hateful war.—Boston Trav.

☞ A letter had been received in Vera Cruz on the 15th instant, previous to the sailing of the Galveston, direct from the headquarters of Gen Scott, stating that Gen Scott had issued orders for the removal of the prisoners from Vera Cruz to Tuspan. This change was said to be partly owing to the sickness in Vera Cruz and because communications could be more easily kept up between Tuspan and Puebla, than between the latter place and Vera Cruz.

☞ A letter from Dr Judson, dated Rangoon, March 2, 1847, states that the house in Maulmein in which his effects were left, had been set on fire and burned to ashes. His clothes and his wife's, all their American presents, and every article of value, were consumed. He is allowed to remain in Rangoon in the character of a minister of a foreign religion, but is strictly prohibited from making proselytes. The succession of the late King's son has produced no change for the better.

☞ The Committee of the Legislature of this State on the subject of the License Law, give notice of a meeting to be held on the 8th day of July inst, to hear all parties for and against its repeal or modification.

☞ We tender our thanks to Jerome & Co's Express for papers received yesterday, in advance of the mail.

☞ The whole number of School Children in Portland reported by the person appointed to take the census was 6365.

☞ Mr Attwood, an artist recently visited the camp of Gen Taylor, and took two portraits of him.

Latest from Mexico.

Advance of General Scott—Peace Proposal Refused.

By the Magnetic Telegraph, the Sun and Herald have received news from the South, one day in advance of the mail. An arrival at New Orleans, has brought advices from Gen Scott of much importance. A desire, at last, has been manifested by Mexico, to treat for peace but the terms offered us, it appears, were not of a character to make Gen Scott think it expedient to accede to them.

The steamer James L. Day arrived at New Orleans, from Vera Cruz, on Monday morning the 21st inst. She left Vera Cruz on the afternoon of the 16th inst, touching at Tampico on the morning of the 17th, Brazos St Iago on the afternoon of the 18th.

The news is one day later, and we are indebted for it to the New Orleans Delta.

The most important part of the intelligence, brought by this arrival, is the flattering prospect of peace.

Capt Wood, of the James L Day, states that information had been received at Vera Cruz, before the Day left, that Gens Scott and Worth with the main body of the army, had advanced as far as Rio Frio without opposition, and were met at that place by a deputation from the capital with proposi ons of peace.

The exact tenor of the propositions was not known. They were however of such a nature that General Scott refused to accept them, and was determined to push his force to the capital. From the deep anxiety felt by the new government, if the term government can be applied to any party or power in Mexico, to stay the march of our forces on the capital, it was thought that further concession would be made to General Scott, before he took up his line of march from Rio Frio.

This important intelligence we give precisely as it came to us.

The remainder of the news centres in the report communicated to the James L Day, by Mr Chilton, the Pilot of Tampico, who boarded her on the 17th, off that city. He states that they were in daily expectation of an attack from the Mexicans, who were reported to be 1500 strong in the vicinity of the city, of the night of the 12 inst.

A demonstration was made by the Mexicans in Tampico to rise—the American authorities, however, had timely information of the contemplated movement, and to suppress it if attempted, called out the troops, who lay on their arms all night.

There was then no demonstration of revolt made on the 15th inst. A party of Mexican lancers, however, attempted the outposts at Tampico, and drove the sentinels into the city.

On the 16th a party of rancheros attacked the Pilot station, and were greeted by a discharge from half a dozen muskets, when they retreated.

The bark Mary, of Baltimore put into Tampico on the 16th inst, for supplies and repairs. She was bound for Vera Cruz with 200 volunteers, which she landed at Tampico.

From Mexico.

The following particulars of interest are from the New Orleans Picayune and the Commercial Times. The dates are from Vera Cruz to the 14th and Puebla the 3d of June.

The communications between Vera Cruz and the army of Gen Scott has been re opened. A train from above, by no means large, came down through the midst of the country occupied by the guerillas and joined Gen Cadwallader. This officer found little difficulty in pursuing his march towards Jalapa.

There is still a great deal of sickness in Vera Cruz, but there is very little in the Castle of San Juan. There has not been a case of yellow fever there, and only two deaths since Capt Blanchard's company left. In the town there is much fever, and the deaths average nine or ten a day. It is confined mostly to laborers and foreigners (not Americans).

It was reported at Vera Cruz, on what is said to be reliable authority, that two hundred Spanish, with six or eight small field pieces, are expected to land on the coast within fifty miles of the city, during the next ten days, when they will at once organize into formidable and desperate guerrilla bands. These men are to come from Cuba.

All the leading men among the guerrillas now, are Spaniards, and also many of the rank and file. A Spanish general, Salturnine de la Vega, has been in the city of Vera Cruz for some days, and has just left for the interior, to find a command, or an office, giving him the control of several commands.

It would appear to be tolerably well ascertained that Congress has accepted Santa Anna's resignation, that the puros, democrats, in Mexico have attempted a revolution and failed, and that no very formidable resistance to our advance to Mexico can be made.

Singular Detection of a Rogue.

Two years since a man named Derby committed burglary at Ware Village and escaped arrest by fleeing to distant parts of the country. A few days since he was discovered in Livingston county, New York, in the following manner:—He had become engaged to a young lady in that vicinity and was about being married; but a friend of the latter, hearing that Derby formerly lived in Ware, and not being fully satisfied as to his character, wrote to that place for information concerning him. In answer he received an order for his arrest as a robber. This was done, and the criminal was brought to Northampton a few days since, examined, and bound over for a trial at the June term of the Common Pleas Court.—Springfield Republican.

Extract of a letter received in Savannah, dated Tampico, June 11, 1847.

Helen Symington.

Amidst the hills of Tweedale there are many lonely valleys, which seem remote from all human ken—little separate regions, where you may loiter for a summer's day without seeing a living thing, save a few straggling sheep, which lift up their heads in seeming wonder as you pass. Or there may rise at your foot a start ed hare, or a covey of moorfowl, unused to such intrusion, where no sound reaches your ear except ing the song of the sky-lark, the bleat of the sheep, the hum of the wild bee, and the low murmuring of a burn, stealing along its quiet way to pay its tribute to the Tweed. It was to one of those sequestered spots, being a stranger in the country, that I was one day led by an old man, who undertook to be my guide to the best streams for trout-fishing. But though now deserted by man, as I have described this valley, there had been a time when it was inhabited, as appeared from a roofless and ruined hut, over the walls of which the ivy and the wild flower had apparently crept for years. I observed to my guide what a lonely dwelling it must have been. 'It was so,' said the old man, 'but love and youth can make any place a paradise, and happiness once dwelt there though it did not continue, and though the fate of its hapless inhabitants made a great noise in the country at the time, it is now in a measure forgotten, for it is more than fifteen years since a fire was kindled in that lone house.' Perceiving by this that something remarkable had happened to the last occupiers of the desolated hut, and being tired with ascending and descending the neighboring hill, I sat down, and requested the old man, who was the schoolmaster of the village where I had for some days taken up my abode, to gratify my curiosity by repeating to me the story to which he had alluded. The place where I had chosen my seat was a little grassy bank, near the brink of the rivulet, and about forty yards below the site of the little ruin, which stood on the side of a hill, and the old man, having placed himself beside me, began his narration.

'My occupation as a teacher gives me, of course, an opportunity of observing with accuracy the dispositions of the youth I instruct and I have never met with a girl with more ardent affections, or of better temper, or who possessed more amiable qualities, than Helen Symington. She was the daughter of an honest and respectable weaver in our village, of which, as she grew up to womanhood she was the pride. When scarce twenty years old, she married William Brydon, a sensible, well-disposed young man, who was principal shepherd to the owner of this property and came here with him to live in that cottage which is now a ruin, but which was then, by the unwearied industry of Helen, a neat and comfortable habitation, and never, in those early days of her marriage, did lark carol more blithely to the sun, than did she while employed in her household occupations, or, as passing over the heather with a light step, she carried some refreshments to her William, when detained with his flock in some more distant sheep-walk. Even when left by herself in this wild solitude she felt no loneliness, for all was peace and joy within and without. William loved her entire ly, and her alone, and she knew it, and in that knowledge all her earthly wishes are complete. Yet was this feeling of felicity still increased, when before the year had completed its circle, she sat, in a summer evening, on yonder little turf seat at the door, with her infant in her arms watching her husband descending the opposite hill, and drawing nearer and nearer till at length her baby shared with her in his caresses. The second winter of their abode here was unusually severe, but it was William's care to guard his wife and child from its inclemency, by many little ingenious contrivances to render their cottage more impervious to the cold, when Helen looked forward each day with longing solitude to the evening hour which restored him to a participation of its comforts, and seated him by its cheerful hearth. And thus the winter had nearly passed away, and they began to anticipate the varied joys of spring, when the birds would again sing around their cot, and all nature, awakened from its wintry sleep, would start anew into life and joy.

The month of February, arrived, and the weather seemed so settled and serene, that, for two successive Sabbaths, Helen, with her infant enveloped in her cloak, and accompanied by her husband, had crossed the hills to the parish church. On the second of those Sabbaths they 'took sweet counsel,' and walking together to the house of God, they conversed of a better and a purer world, where they should fear no after parting. And as Helen listened to her husband who was very eloquent on this subject, she thought she had never heard him speak so like a minister, or seen him so full of holy hope. I notice this particularly, as it is a circumstance I shall have occasion to mention again. On the next morning after this conversation, William departed with the sheep from this valley to a distant fair. The weather was fine when he gathered his flock, and bade fare well to his beloved Helen for three days, promising to return on the evening of third. He had never been absent from his home but twice since his marriage, and that for a single night each time.

His, wife however, expressed no fear from being left alone for so unwonted a time, for the fact is there is in general more courage in women in her humble rank in life than in any other, for they are too much occupied to find time for the indulgence of idle alarms, nor do they meet with any encouragement to affect fears till the folly becomes a habit. Neither did William experience any uneasiness on, account of the solitariness of the dwelling in which he was to leave her, considering that very circumstance as he principal warrant for her safety.

'The weather, I have said, was fine at the time of his departure, but in our treacherous climate, and especially in these hilly districts, there is nothing more uncertain than a continuance of settled weather at that season of the year, and never did it exhibit more rapid transitions than during the three days of William's absence. Before the shades of night had fallen on the hills, the rain had descended their sides in torrents, and swelled the little burn into a river. On the second night the clouds had disappeared, and a keen frost succeeded, which ere morning arrested the water in its course, and transformed the ground for some distance round where we now sit into a frozen lake. Again, another change came o'er the spirit of the storm, dark clouds began to gather, and showers of sleet and snow to fall, till all again was hoary winter. But still, when night came on, there was seemingly, from the quietness of its descent, no depth of snow, though it had fallen at intervals for many hours and the time was now arrived when Helen expected to see her husband, she felt no dread of harm, and no sooner had she put her baby to sleep, than she prepared a change of garments, a warm supper, a blazing ingle and a clean hearthstone, for her William, and often opened the door to listen and look out, if haply she might discern his dark figure against the opposite white hill descending the footpath towards his home. She was, however, as often disappointed, and returned again to heap fresh fuel on the fire, till she began to feel first the heart-sickness of 'hope deferred,' and then the heavy pressure of foreboding evil, and when her baby waked there was in the melancholy tones of the hymn with which she soothed him to rest a soul subduing pathos, for it has been my lot to hear again that lullaby, when it sounded even more deeply affecting than it could they have done.

Poor Helen continued all night her visits to the door, till at length, just as morning began to dawn, she heard her name shouted out by the well known voice of William. Joy came to her heart, for she thought he had seen her, and though ... ed in vain for him, still he was near ... n she heard his voice, and his words ... ctly on her ear—"Oh Helen, Helen, I perish!" She flew with the speed of lightning down the bank, but when she approached near to this spot, her progress was arrested, for the ice, from which the water had receded below, could not bear her weight—And then it was for the first time, she discovered, through the instinct glimmering of the dawn, and by his own words, that, on William's having reached the middle of the burn, where the force of the stream below had rendered it hollow, the ice had given way, and he was only kept from sinking by his arms resting on the surrounding part, which was still firm.

ADAMS HOUSE

No. 37 Washington Street,

BOSTON.

L. & W. T. ADAMS beg leave to inform their friends and the public that they have taken the above new and splendid Hotel.

THE ADAMS HOUSE was erected during the past season to supply an obvious demand for increased and superior accommodations in this city. It is located on Washington street, within a few minutes walk of the great Southern and Western Rail Road Depots and the business sections of the City. It is adjacent to the Park and the Cupola commands a beautiful view of the Harbor and the adjoining towns.

The House has been constructed after the most approved plans, with all the modern inventions to minister to the comfort and convenience of the traveler, and the Constructor's long experience in Hotels has enabled him to introduce many improvements, which are, as yet, peculiar to this Establishment. It is built of Quincy Granite, and contains one hundred and fifty Rooms, conveniently arranged in suits and single apartments, well ventilated and supplied with an abundance of pure soft water.

The Furniture was made to order from the best patterns with special regard as well to comfort and convenience, as luxury and splendor.

Our Table will be supplied with all the luxuries of the season and we pledge ourselves that the rarities of the season shall be found upon it.

We have devoted unusual attention to the selection of Servants, and our Guests may rely on prompt and polite attendance.

Porters will be in readiness at the various depots to take charge of baggage, and provide carriages for our Guests.

The Proprietors trust by strict attention to the wants of Guests to merit a share of patronage, assuring all who may favor them with a visit that nothing shall be wanting on their part to render the ADAMS HOUSE, second to none in the Union.

L. & W. T. ADAMS, Proprietors.

TO LET,

BRICK HOUSE, Thomas Hill Rent $150 Inquire of June 24 W A BLAKE

DR. RALPH'S PILLS,

OR UNIVERSAL

DOMESTIC VEGETABLE MEDICINE,

IS FOUNDED ON THE

ONLY PRINCIPLE IN NATURE on which an Universal Remedy can be safely and conscientiously recommended to the World

The following remarks on the nature of that great principle on which this Medicine is founded and on the manner in which it is applicable to all Diseases, are addressed to the

of every responsible and thinking person

Although it is not generally understood, yet there is implanted in the human body a wonderful connecting principle, which unites the ORGANS OF DIGESTION with every separate or distant part or organ—and, consequently, also with every disorder that can befall the human family

To understand this subject fully, it is necessary to be acquainted that nature has supplied a large and peculiar nerve for the very purpose of connecting the Organs of Digestion with each separate part of the body Unlike all other nerves, which begin in the brain and are thence distributed to every other part, this nerve originates near the Digestive Organs and terminates in the brain In this course, however, it unites with nerves which are sent from the brain to every part of the body, and thus a universal connecting principle is established It is in consequence of this, that no impression by medicine or otherwise can be made upon the stomach or intestinal passage which is not capable of affecting any distant part of the body, while no disorder can originate in any distant part without affecting the organs of digestion But it is not only that diseases in distant parts of the body have the effect of disturbing the digestive organs, for it happens that whenever these organs are once affected, this disturbed condition sooner or later, re-acts upon the original disorder and greatly aggravates it Thus, in Gout or Rheumatism, or any kind of painful disorder, it will be found, that in proportion as the stomach is disturbed, or the bowels constipated so is the pain and fever attending such complaint increased and aggravated It is therefore a fact which accords with reason as well as every day's experience, that a medicine which controls the varying action of the Digestive Organs must prove exceedingly extensive in the range of its utility

Thus, the majority of disorders arise immediately from disturbance of the Stomach the Liver or the Bowels, but let them spring from what ever cause they may, they cannot continue long without involving one or other of these organs and hence this remedy which operates to strengthen the stomach, promote the secretions of the Liver, and regulate the Bowels, is the most rational safe and universal, that can be availed of Further these are the very means, which nature herself takes in those wonderful and spontaneous cures we often witness, so that, upholding the natural resources of every constitution, we hereby give to nature the full advantage of her powers

Again, with respect to the

this is the only way to make it pure The principle source of impurities of the Blood, is a disordered condition of the Organs of Digestion, and if this be not corrected all other purifiers of the blood are useless

THE PECULIAR SAFETY

of this Medicine is another circumstance which forcibly

COMMENDS IT TO SOCIETY,

there being no fear of taking it improperly in any case whatever What disorder is there, for instance, that can ever be injured by a medicine that strengthens the feeble and dyspeptic Stomach, corrects the vitiated humors of the Blood and cleanses and restores the natural action of the Bowels? If therefore, no complaint can continue any length of time, or amount to any danger without disturbing the one or the other of these organs then it follows as the plainest truth, there is no complaint which does not fall within the reach and influence of this medicine, nor any one in which it is not safe and useful in one degree or other For the same reason, no person can doubt a moment as to its safety and propriety in his or her complaint Moreover the pure and simple virtues of certain vegetable remedies being now entirely separated from their useless and injurious parts, these Pills are brought to act with a certainty and safety that was never thought of heretofore It is next to an impossibility that any person can take them any length of time without acknowledging this truth and as they contain so any number that may be required may be taken with perfect safety for any length of time

It is not however meant that any single remedy is alone sufficient for the cure of all diseases, and this the more important to remark as many persons pretend to have such remedies On the contrary, it is stated in a plain and candid manner there are diseases which absolutely NEED the aid of OTHER remedies, and some indeed in which they cannot be withheld a single day without the greatest danger

In accordance with his, Dr Ralph is pledged in all his publications, to point out these circumstances, and the remedies required He has done so even in the wrapper accompanying every box

He feels it therefore a duty to repeat explicitly, that although there is no disease whatever in which these pills have not been taken with great advantage, and in most diseases have performed a perfect cure alone, yet there are complaints which absolutely need the aid of other means, and some in which, such other measures cannot be witheld with safety

June 2 d3w

To the Hon. Senate and House of Representatives:

YOUR Petitioners respectfully represent that they are interested in the transportation of freight and supplies for teams, by steamboat, across the Moosehead Lake braod into the Penobscot and Alaguash Rivers that it would be much more convenient for them to be able to carry said supplies through to the place of destination, than for another Company, whose business does not lead them that way—that the present expense of getting supplies across the Portage from Moosehead Lake to the West branch of Penobscot, and across the Mud Pond Portage, is very much more than it should be—that a cheap Wooden Rail Road across said Portages would very much cheapen the expense of transportation and advance the interest of all doing business in that vicinity

They therefore ask to be incorporated into a Company for that purpose with such powers and restrictions as may be thought proper in such cases —and in duty bound would ever pray

BAILEY'S COMPOUND EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA,

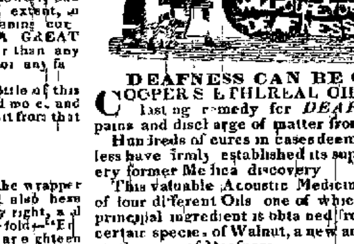

Prepared in a highly concentrated form

THE subscriber, after numerous experiments, has adopted a method of preparing a COMPOUND EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA, by a new process by which the entire active principle of the root is extracted in a concentrated form — This preparation has received highly flattering encomiums from the Medical Faculty by many of whom it has been used with invariable success in the following diseases, viz scald head, salt rheum, mercurial affections, old ulcers, rheumatism, and cutaneous eruptions generally, also in syphilitic cases and all impurities of the blood and obstructions of the secretions The entire satisfaction given in all cases of trial, having produced a great demand for it, the subscriber is induced to CAUTION the public against imposition The Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla as prepared by him, will in future have his seal on the cork of the bottle, with his signature, Wm. Bailey None other is genuine
WM BAILEY,

Brooklyn, June 14th, 1844
To Mr Bailey, Proprietor of Bailey's Extract of Sarsaparilla
I do hereby certify that, during the past year I have been severely afflicted with a disease, which made its first appearance in sores in my mouth, afterwards spreading over my face, hands, arms, shoulders and legs, forming an entire scab I received the attention of physicians, and used a great variety of remedies without receiving any visible benefits My situation, already truly distressing, became worse and worse Being very poor, and my husband being out of employment, I was under the necessity of applying to the Female Samaritan Society of Brooklyn for assistance, and through their kind aid and advice of a physician (Dr. Moriarty,) was enabled to obtain a supply of Bailey's Sarsaparilla After using three bottles, I found myself entirely recovered The sores have disappeared, and I now have the happiness of enjoying good health and feel that I am perfectly cured— That Bailey's Sarsaparilla restored me, I am certain, inasmuch as I used no other remedy from the time I commenced taking it I felt that I could not do a better service to the public than thus publicly stating my case and recommending Bailey's Sarsaparilla to all that are in any way afflicted as I was It is now two months since I got well and my health was never better in my life than now
MARY MAKIN,—Baltic street

One of the proprietors of this paper, at the request of Mr Bailey, took some pains to ascertain the truth of the above statement Several individuals acquainted with the case were applied to among whom the physician who attended the female giving the certificate He unhesitatingly stated that the matters set forth were true The disease, he said, was a most violent one the woman being covered from head to foot, almost, with sores That when applied to, he recommended a free use of Bailey's Sarsaparilla, which was furnished by the "Female Samaritan Society" of this city, as set forth; and to the surprise of all who are acquainted with the case, the woman entirely recovered after taking but three bottles Such being the virtue of Sarsaparilla, it becomes every family to have a supply on hand, and on the first appearance of the symptoms of a disease arising from the impurity of the blood, let it be taken The physician alluded to has recommended the Sarsaparilla to other cases with success, and considers it an invaluable medicine.
Any further comments would be superfluous

THE GRAEFENBERG PILLS.

THERE ARE THE MOST CONCLUSIVE REASONS why that class of Medicines denominated 'PATENT,' should be made the means of incalculable and enduring blessings to the human family. Suppose, for example, that a high order of talent, long and sagacious observation, and great medical learning and experience are brought to bear upon the invention and manufacture of a PILL Why may not this long devotion to this division of medical science be crowned with the success that attends the sacrifice of similar talents and toil in other things? There is no reason, and it is but the simplest dictate of the simplest common sense to say that a Pill thus produced will be as perfect an article as can be made by man Twenty five years devotion to any one subject will give a man of ability the mastery over it This labor has been bestowed upon the

and they are presented to the public with claims unparalleled in the whole history of medical science.
It will be seen, in tracing the history of all great inventions, that they were not made or discovered until the arrival of what may be termed THE FULNESS OF TIME The mariner's compass, for instance, was not invented until in the "fullness of time" it was needed The loadstone always lay at man's feet but he never knew what a wonderful and unerring guide was treasured in its silent bosom, until the Divinely appointed time drew near when distant continents and islands were to be unveiled. Behold it now transferred to the binnacle of the adventurous sailor, enabling him to launch far away upon unknown Oceans, instead of timidly sailing within sight of familiar land marks
So with the discovery of the New World, upon whose shores was to arise this Giant Nation to a power and glory, a mission far beyond the conception of the wild est fancy The Old World had reached its highest destiny the "fulness of time" drew near for the revelation of the New, and behold the immortal Columbus, from the forecastle of his drenched and leaky vessel, found it! So with the invention of printing of steam, of the magnetic telegraph Each of these had its own "fullness of time," marked, distinct and Providential.
☞ IN MEDICAL SCIENCE THE SAME GREAT PHILOSOPHICAL PRINCIPLE IS EQUALLY MARKED Most beautiful are the illustrations and proofs of this which are to be found in the history of the world We can trace them from the Mosaic dispensation down to the present hour, all of them teaching us the lesson and giving us the hope that something yet better to heal human maladies is at hand
That this principle is as true of Medical as of Physical science, is clearly shown in the

which is furnished gratuitously to all who wish it.— The

Graefenberg Pills,

are deemed by all who have tested them to be at an conceivable advance upon all other medical combinations and discoveries hitherto known, and they are announced as

THE GREAT REMEDIAL TRIUMPH.

The inventor of these Pills rests his theory upon no school nor dogma of ordinary medical teachers. Planting himself upon the revelation of the

—THAT

"THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE,"

he requires that his disciples and his patients make pure the life current that leaps through their veins and arteries, before they can hope for a PERMANENT cure Relief he can give them and so can others, but bright and joyous health must come from a pure blood
But a most sad thought here comes in! So countless are the impositions which are practiced upon the public by pretenders, and so numerous, and boastful are the medicines advertised, that the reader may be slow to believe in this Great Remedy A word therefore, on this point
In the first place, READ THE GRAEFENBERG GAZETTE No matter how sceptical you may now be, that paper will convince you Thousands have been convinced in every State and Territory in the Union, and among them distinguished statesmen, jurists clergymen, physicians, civilians The bare enumeration of the names would fill this page Let the reader send to the most convenient agency for a copy of the Gazette, which can be had GRATIS!!

In the second place, TRY THE PILLS. It will cost but the merest trifle, and will introduce you to a medicine which you will deem a blessing to the end of your days
A thousand things press upon the minds of the advertisers which they would rejoice to say to the reader, but the limits of this advertisement forbid But let any one afflicted with the following diseases make trial of the Grafenburg Pills and they will be PERMANENTLY CURED!

Asthma	Flatulency.
Bilious Complaints,	Fluor Albus or Whites,
Boils,	Gastric Fever,
Bowels, deficient action in,	Green Sickness,
Breast Pang,	Gripes,
Catarrh,	Heartburn,
Constipation,	Headache,
Cough of Pregnancy,	Hysterics,
Costiveness,	Incontinence of Urine,
Diarrhea	Indigestion,
Difficult Breathing,	Inflammation of vital parts,

Ear Ache,	Menstruation Suppressed, or painful,
Erysipelas,	Nervous disorders,
Epilepsy	Neuralgia
Fever—Low, Nervous, Intermittent, Remittent	Rheumatism
Fever and Ague,	Stomach, various diseases, Whites

In all bilious or chronic disorders, these Pills achieve the most wonderful triumph FEAR THEY DEFY COMPETITION And as the susceptibility of the American constitution is to these diseases, they are aptly styled by some

The Pill of the New World.

Their wonderful efficacy in these complaints arises from their power TO OPEN THE PORES CLEANSE AND STRENGTHEN THE STOMACH AND BOWELS MAKE THE URINE FLOW HEALTHILY AND CLEAR AND TO GIVE TONE AND STRENGTH TO THE SYSTEM
It is impossible within the limits of an ordinary advertisement, to give the reader the reasons for the most extraordinary success and spread of these Pills But REASONS DO EXIST, which have abundantly satisfied the minds of thousands in this country, and among them the accomplished Physicians, Jurists, Clergymen, and private citizens, male and female ☞ NUMEROUS CERTIFICATES of the wonderful efficacy of these Pills might be presented but a certificate in these days is scarcely worth the paper on which it is printed A few extracts from the correspondence of the Company, will, however, be given.

FROM A DISTINGUISHED GENTLEMAN OF BOSTON.
Gentlemen, I cannot refrain from troubling you with a few lines to express my great pleasure in being able to say, that I have experienced the greatest relief from the effect of your Pills. For many years I have suffered much from constipation, which has disarranged my whole system, and I have not known a day's good health for many years past, and being an old man, I despaired of ever again enjoying life, but a friend recommended me to try your Pills, which I did, although without any confidence, the result, I am happy to inform you, has far exceeded my expectations, the cause of my suffering is nearly removed, and I feel my health and strength daily renewed, and I am satisfied that the merits of your Pills, when tested, must be acknowledged by the whole community, and will become the most popular medicine of the day."

FROM AN EPISCOPAL BISHOP
Gentlemen—I consider it to be the duty of every Christian to make known to the world any advantages that they may have derived by accident, or from any discovery of their own, and with this sentiment strongly impressed on my mind, I feel great gratification in having it in my power to speak in the highest terms of the valuable discovery you have made in the production of your Pills. I was induced to try them, from the philosophical manner in which you have reasoned on the subject and I must do myself the pleasure, and you the justice to say, that I had no conception so speedily an effect could be arrived at, My complaint has been that of the Liver, from which I despaired of getting better, but since taking your Pills, I find my general health, spirits and appetite so much improved that I hope to find myself able to endure, without bodily suffering, the duties of an arduous Profession In future I will send to your agent for more Pills when needed With great consideration and gratitude, I am, &c

CONSUMPTION CURED.

BUCHAN'S HUNGARIAN BALSAM OF LIFE.

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY For Colds, Coughs, Asthma, and other Diseases of the CHEST and LUNGS.

BUCHAN'S HUNGARIAN BALSAM, the Great English Remedy for Pictorial and Pulmonary diseases, still stands unrivalled and unsurpassed as the most elegant, agreeable, and effectual curative of the formidable complaints, now known to the civilized world
Three years of trial in the United States, during which time it has been distributed from Maine to Florida, has only served to establish its pre eminent merits in all parts of the country, as the great and ONLY RELIABLE REMEDY in the worst cases of Pulmonary disease, one the best and most agreeable curative of all the slight forms of colds, cough and inflammation, that can possibly be used
SPITTING OF BLOOD This frightful symptom approaching Consumption, is speedily checked and prevented by the use of Buchan's Hungarian Balsam which heals the affected membrane, removes the incipient tubercles, and restores those vital organs, the lungs to a sound and healthy condition
REMEMBER THIS Spitting of Blood always arises from a tendency to Tuberculous disease and if not checked, at the outset, will sooner or later determine in death A person who raises blood once will again, unless a proper curative is immediately employed!
PAIN IN THE SIDE! This distressing symptom of Consumption arises from inflammation of the lungs the Membrane called the Pleura, or from Bronchial affection of the air passages In either case it is a very dangerous indication of disease It prevents full and free breathing and wears away the natural strength of the system The cause of this symptom should be removed at once, and nothing can possibly effect this object so speedily and happily as the Great English Remedy, discovered by Dr Buchan which is entirely vegetable in its ingredients, and perfectly harmless in all its qualities
LIVER COMPLAINT In cases of Consumption the Liver is always more or less affected, and also the Spleen, Pleura, and small intestines On dissecting Consumptive patients, Tubercles are often found in these organs, particularly upon the Liver, which also becomes fatty, oily and swelled The effect of Hungarian Balsam in diseases of the Liver, especially if it be of an ulcerous nature, is direct and powerful Simple disease of the Liver, unattended by Consumption speedily cured by its use
WINTER COUGH The harsh, dry, hacking winter cough which afflicts old people, and invalids in a tolerable state of health is happily affected by the Hungarian Balsam
It warms, moistens and stimulates the whole breathing apparatus, removes all morbid mucus, and other foul matter, purifies and animates the blood, improves the secretive power of the Liver, Spleen, and other large glands, and the digestive organs, and imparts new life to the wan and emaciated system
BRONCHITIS Bronchitis, Difficulty of Breathing, Harsh Cough, a slimy expectoration, with all other symptoms caused by an affection of the air tubes leading from the throat to the lungs, are directly and speedily cured by the use of the admirable remedy in the use of Dr Buchan
This is a very painful, wearing and injurious complaint, and always has a powerful tendency to inflame and soften the Lungs and thereby to produce the worst form of Pulmonary disease If warned in time, ye afflicted! and employ this valuable remedy
TUBERCLES ON THE LUNGS! The Hungarian Balsam is the only popular remedy which has any power to dissolve, remove, and cure Tubercles on the Lungs Incredible as this is generally esteemed, we have the most abundant and conclusive evidence to sustain the assertion that such is its direct and immediate effect in all cases where there is no natural organic defect In fact, so confident is the American Agent of its power to cure the worst form of this disease that he prefers, (as he has frequently stated) that it should be used by invalids who have been PRONOUNCED INCURABLE by the most eminent physicians rather than by persons affected with some slighter form of disease—in order that the triumph might be more apparent He boldly declares that it will cure Tuberculous disease and confidently solicits a trial in the worst of cases
EXPECTORATION! Free Expectoration is the most important object to be attained in all attempts to cure diseases of the Chest and Lungs The Cough, which is so distressing is simply the result of a desire to expectorate, and as long as foul matter exists in the air passage, it will continue to irritate the membrane and provoke the cough. Coughing is an attempt to throw off the matter, and expectoration gives great relief In debility to expectorate in the latter stages of Consumption is the cause of death
The Hungarian Balsam is a great Expectorant — It dissolves the morbid and diseased matter in the air passage, changes it from a thick, glutinous substance, to a thin harmless fluid and throws it off with the greatest possible ease and comfort to the patient, There is no better medicine in the world if its expectorant quality alone be considered
SPASMODIC ASTHMA Simple or Spasmodic Asthma, has no better remedy than the Hungarian Balsam This painful and destructive affection which resists almost every thing else yields to the all powerful influence of this great remedy, as readily as any other form of Pectoral disease CONSUMPTION! Consumption has been graphically described as a Shrinking of one's self The Hungarian Balsam, by its cleansing warming softening and animating power, produces, no shrinking but expansion!
Before its delightful influence, all chills, fever, night sweats, costiveness, blueness of the nails hot flushed skin, an uncertain strength, emaciation and decline—disappear, like the poisonous dews of night before the glorious morning sun! This is no delusion, but demonstrable fact, sustained by incontestible proof, from all parts of the country
BE WISE TO-DAY! Delay in any case of Consumptive tendency, is emphatically Death under all ordinary treatment The Hungarian Balsam is a great ANTIDOTE as well a CURATIVE If you have any symptoms above described be advised in time
Sold in large bottles at only one dollar per bottle

"DOWNS' VEGETABLE BALSAMIC ELIXIR We are not in the habit of puffing medicines in our columns, but having used the above medicine in our family with gratifying success, and being persuaded from all we can learn concerning it, that it is an excellent remedy for Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Whooping Cough Asthma, and diseases of the Chest and Lungs we do not hesitate to give it a cordial notice Elder D wns, an acquaintance of ours was himself an invalid for a long time, and was thought to be far gone with the consumption, and as so he returned to his father's family This remedy was the means of restoring his own health, and it [illegible] salutary effects upon themselves and families"
